SUBJECT : By-lines on NIEs

I have discussed this subject matter at length with Dick Lehmann, who says that it is not unprecedented but has not normally been done on NIEs. He thinks, however, that it would be a good idea under certain circumstances, such as ^{single or} joint authorship, survivability of original text, and lack of extensive footnotes. Therefore, NIE seems an ideal candidate to try attribution on. He recommends that you consider pointing out to the NFIB Reps at a meeting shortly after distribution that NIE has a by-line and that among the reasons for this innovation were:

- Encouraging diversity of authorship;
- Increasing credibility;
- Passing credit where due;
- Recruiting of future NIE authors.

SUBJECT: By-lines on NIEs

I have asked [] to include the authors on the "coordination page" (attached) of the NIE. This location is recommended by Dick Lehmann as it does not degrade the authenticity of the NIE as a community paper. []
